

Education and Inspiration for Your Patients!

Welcome to thrive... a new magazine for Canada's limb loss community!

About thrive With more than 225,000 amputees in Canada (source: The War Amps of Canada), a consumer magazine of our own is long overdue. Enter thrive, a publication dedicated to the pursuit of living well with limb loss, a venue for peer and professional support, a launch pad for consumer advocacy and a social media conversation starter.

Primed for thrive!

Amputee consumers and prosthetists deem a magazine for Canadians living with limb loss to be much needed...

"As Canadians... publications that are for and about us are most appreciated. As an amputee, I'm thrilled to hear about thrive... finally a publication that speaks to me!"

- Mark Ludbrook, Amputee Consumer

"thrive will be an incredible resource not only for those we serve but just as much for prosthetists and the extended clinical team. I'm excited!"

- Martin Robinson, C.P.(c)

ABOUT THE PUBLISHER: Disability Today Publishing Group, a disability community pioneer and leader for over 25 years, is known for its quality publications, and compelling editorial. Publisher Jeff Tiessen, an amputee of nearly 40 years, three-time Paralympian, award-winning journalist and Canadian Disability Hall of Fame inductee, is a respected advocate and keenly aware of the needs of Canadians with limb loss.

O&P Facility Partner Program

Like a clinical team, thrive is about partnerships too... organizations working together to provide amputees with a first-rate resource for living well physically, emotionally and socially... to grow and to flourish.

Join the team... help us put thrive in the hands of whom your O&P facility serves.

With your support, your clients and patients can benefit from this new magazine at no cost to them. And your practitioners can gain from it too.
